

PTA 100 : INTRODUCTION TO PHYSICAL THERAPY

This course is an introduction to the field of physical therapy as a career choice. Emphasis is on the role of the PT and PTA, educational requirements, scope of practice and subspecialty areas such as pediatrics, geriatrics, and sports. Upon completion of the course, the student should have a general understanding of the role of physical therapy in the health care environment. Note: You do not have to be in the PTA Program to take this course. A grade higher than a '93B: in this optional course does award bonus points to a prospective student's PTA application.
