

AUT 273 : MOLD PROCESSING

This course is designed to teach students basic mold processor skills. Topics will include safety, molding materials, machine controls, fill rates, temperature control, pressure control, and timing. Students will learn how various factors affect the mold process and how to compensate for those factors by setting and adjusting machine controls.

Credits 3

Lab Hours 4

Theory Hours 1