

Technical Education and Workforce Development

TECHNICAL EDUCATION

AND WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT

Eric Sewell, Dean of Technical Education and Workforce Development

The mission of the Technical Education and Workforce Development Division of Southern Union State Community College is to prepare students to enter the workforce immediately upon completion of a program of study and to provide workforce training solutions for the business and industry community in the College's service area. Students may earn a degree or certificates in a wide variety of high-wage, high-skill, high-demand career and occupational programs.

Technical Education

Joffrey Moore, Director of Technical Education (334) 745-6437 ext. 5565

jmoore@suscc.edu

The Technical Division awards the Associate in Applied Science degree, the Associate in Occupational Technology degree, the Certificate, and the Short-Term Certificate. The general education courses required in the Associate degree program may transfer to other colleges and universities (please see your advisor).