

Associate in Applied Science Degree

The Associate in Applied Science (AAS) degree is designed for students who wish to prepare for a career and benefit from a college general education. AAS degrees in Technical Education require between 60 and 76 semester hours, depending on the program of study. A minimum of 15 semester hours of general education courses is required for all AAS programs.

AAS degrees are offered in the following Technical Education programs:

- Air Conditioning and Refrigeration
- Automotive Mechanics
- Aviation Maintenance Technology
- Computer Numerical Controlled Machining
- Cosmetology
- Engineering and Design
- Industrial Electricity
- Mechatronics
- Plastics Engineering Technology
- Welding Technology